Cross Border Project Update

In August, Biozone announced its exciting cross-border project located in Francistown, Botswana. We are thrilled to report that our client is delighted with their new system, supplying purified water to the community. This project exemplifies our commitment to making a positive impact beyond borders, and we look forward to exploring more cross-border opportunities in the future.

People Highlight

Lastly, we'd like to shine a spotlight on our remarkable CEO, Ian Wright, who has dedicated 25 years to Biozone. Ian's leadership has been instrumental in driving our company's growth, even in an industry where ozone is considered a taboo topic. He has steered us through challenging times and treats our staff like family.

Beyond the boardroom, Ian is a dedicated cyclist, having completed 8 Argus cycle rides, 8 94.7 Challenge cycle rides, and has recently accomplished his 100th Parkrun. Ian's commitment to excellence and his passion for both our team and our environment make him an exceptional example for all of us at Biozone.

Thank you for your continued trust in Biozone as your partner in ensuring clean and safe environments. We're excited to bring you these updates and innovations as we usher in the spring season.

Stay tuned for more exciting developments in future editions of OzoNews!
